The screenshot displays the ReviewCloud 'Users' management page. At the top, there are four summary cards: '7 Active Users (Total: 8)', '2 User Group within Org', '7 Welcome Email Not sent', and '7 Password changes'. Below these are buttons for 'Bulk Action', 'Export Report', 'Add User', and a search bar. A table lists users with columns for 'FIRST NAME', 'LAST NAME', 'EMAIL', 'USER TYPE', 'MANAGER', and 'DEPARTMENT'. A blue-bordered box highlights a subset of users: Wakefield Chesshyre (Manager), Eiden Potter (Employee), and Buck Skain (Employee). An overlay window titled 'Q2 - PERFORMANCE REVIEW' is shown, featuring a 'Write Reviews' section with 'SELF REVIEW' for Lanette Diamant (checked) and 'MANAGER' Wakefield Chesshyre. A progress bar for Lanette Diamant shows '10%' completion, with a 'Progress' label and an 'Add more...' button.

More feedback, more analytics, more information.

- Real-time dashboard analytics
- Unlimited events & feedback forms
- Easily manage employee profile & history
- Upload previous records for seamless management

Learning-centered, performance growth.

Performance reviews don't have to be hard.

Managers often don't know how to give useful feedback, and employers often don't know how to take criticism and grow from it. Worst, many employers often focus on metrics that don't connect to an employee's psychological needs.

At ReviewCloud, we simplify performance management processes so you can focus on the quality of feedback. "Making it easy" means we combine software, service and content to reduce costs and improve engagement.
